

■ STEERING GEAR

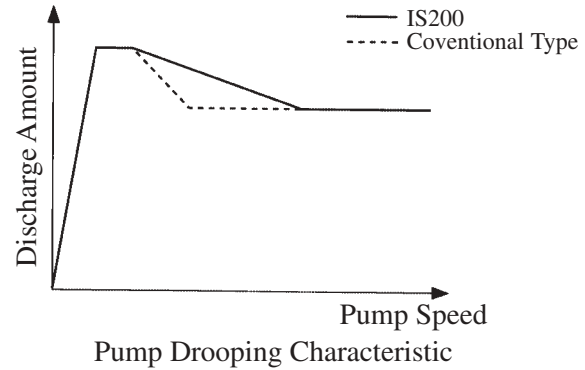

A lightweight and compact rack and pinion type steering gear with excellent steering feeling has been adopted.

163CH70

■ VANE PUMP

A compact and lightweight vane pump with a built-in flow control valve has been adopted. Designed particularly to address the transition from the low-speed to the high-speed range, this pump provides a drooping characteristic that alters the fluid volume more gradually than the conventional engine revolution sensing type.

163CH71